

E-Health

People always became ignorant when it comes to health problem, they eventually care when the condition get worst or the condition affect their daily activity.

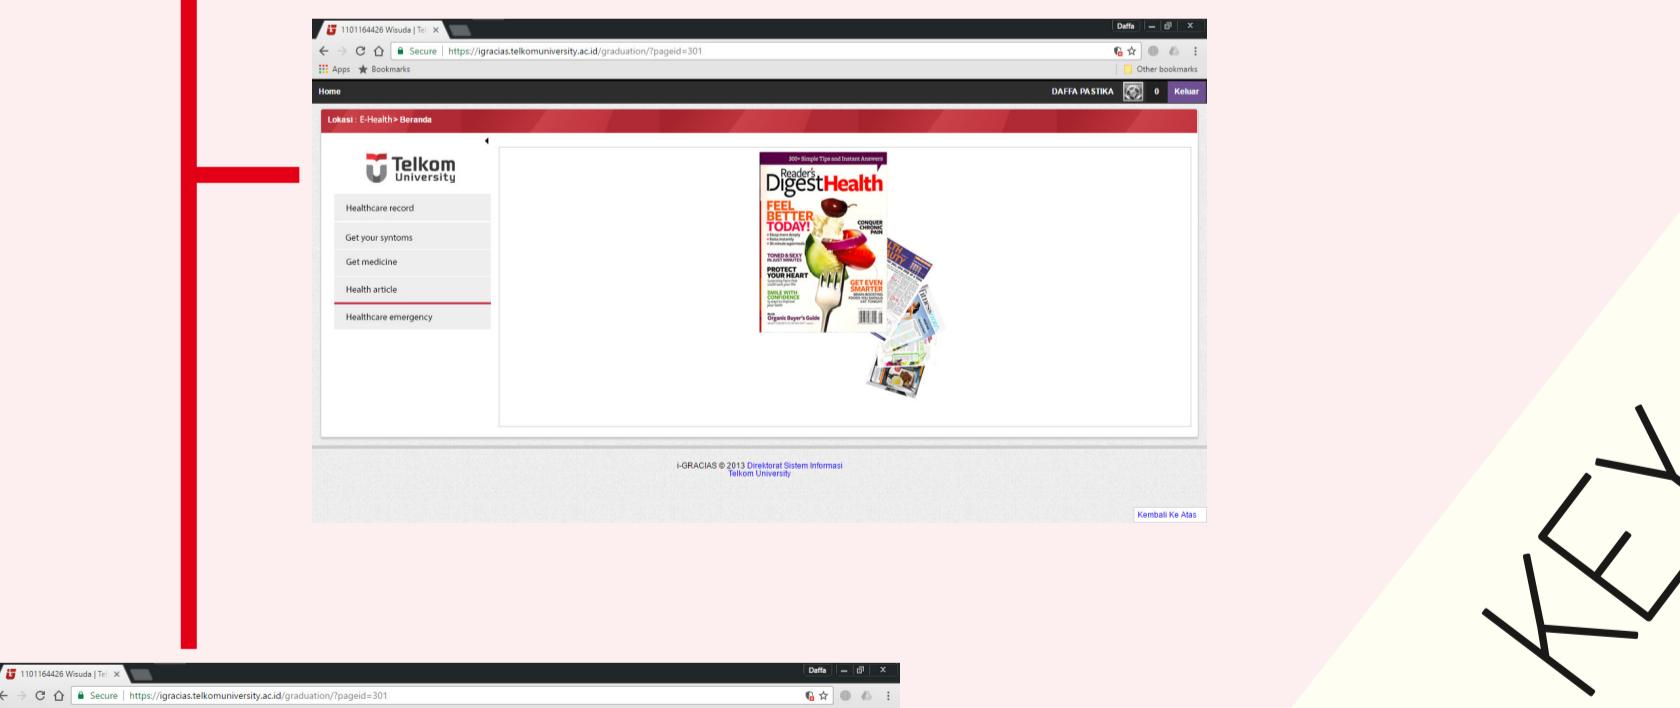

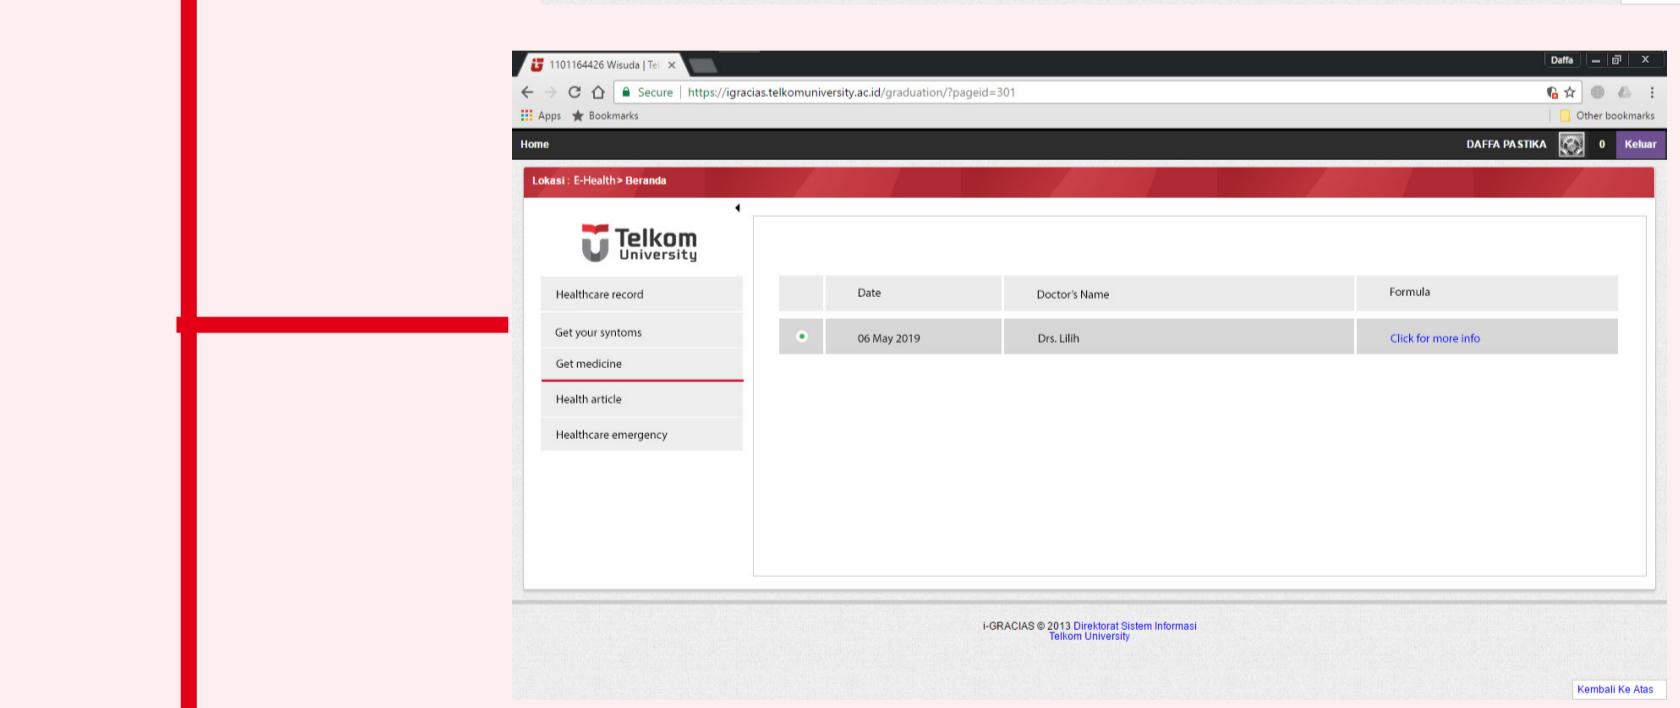

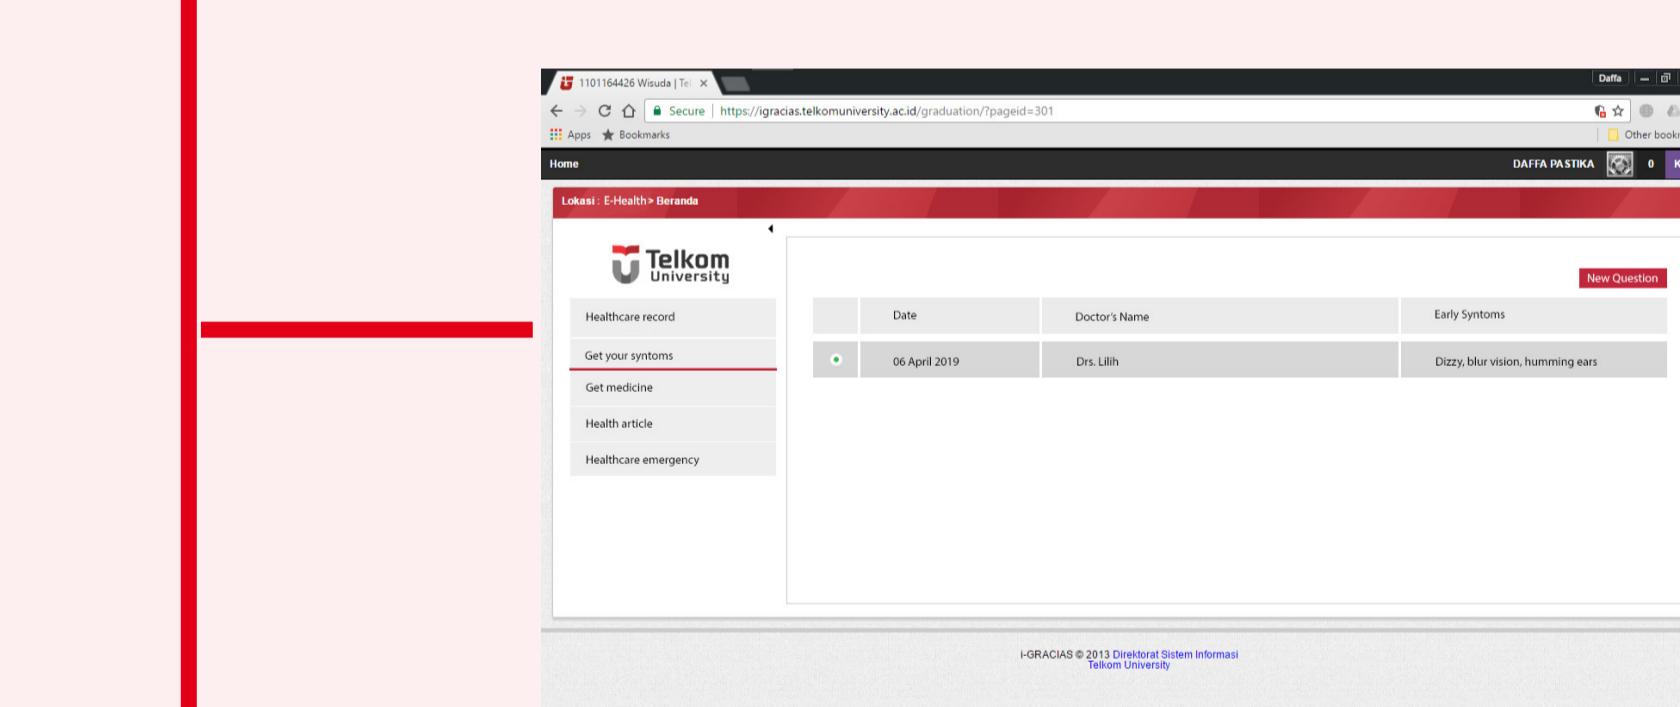

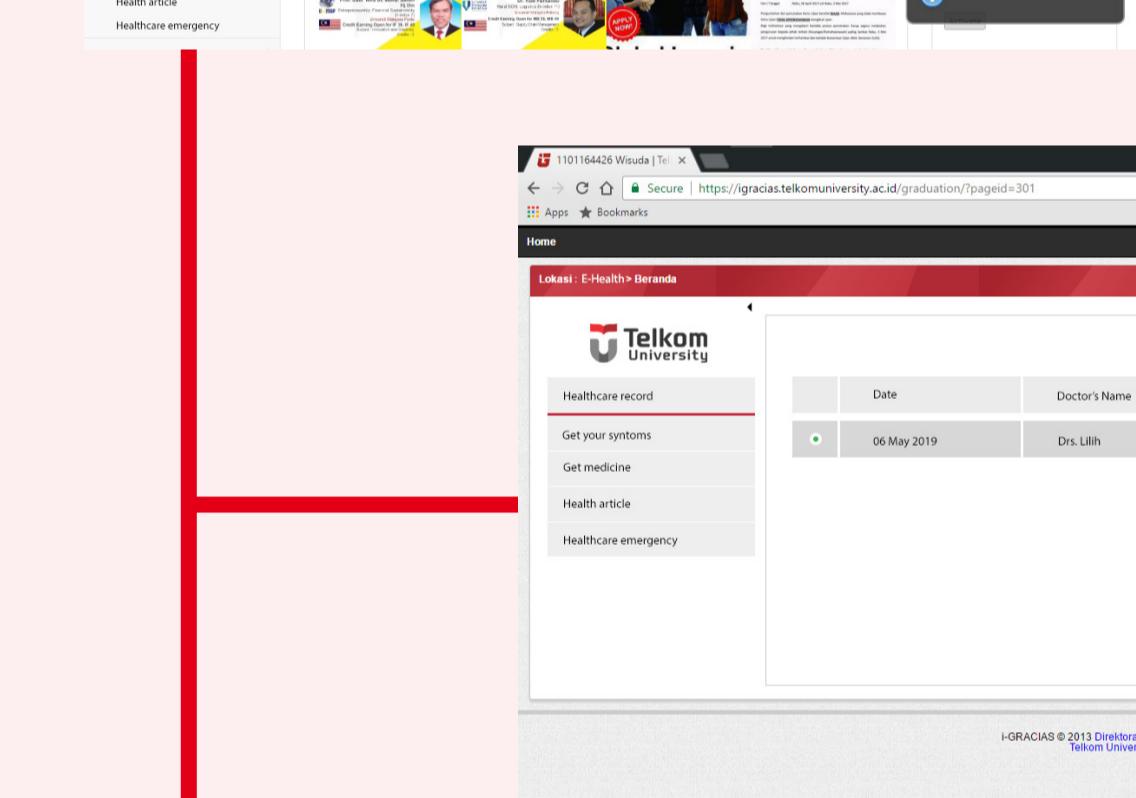

The main reason for the ignorant are laziness, financial problem, false diagnosis, etc.

With that reasons who inspired us for creating this a service to manage this health care problem by using a very simple and effective way that everyone, especially college students. We design E-health as an application to become a solution for your health care problem.

We're only focusing for the college student at Telkom University, hopefully we can implement this idea in the real life and as one of the fiture in I-gracias menu. We hope this application will help and prevent you from the long term and severe diaseas.
